

Dreams: Mirror

By

Josh J.

FADE IN:

INT.INTERROGATION ROOM - UNKNOWN TIME

JOSH (18), average height and weight, sits in a chair. In front of him is a table with a chair on the other side of it. The only thing that lights the room is one light on the left and one on the right. They hang on each side of the wall.

Behind Josh is a long mirror. He looks at the table. Josh gets up and looks at the mirror.

JOSH'S REFLECTION in the mirror gives an evil smile. Josh frowns towards his reflection. He looks behind him and sees a CLONE JOSH The clone sits on the chair on the other side of the table and smiles.

Josh walks up to the Clone Josh. Clone Josh continues to smile at Josh. Josh looks back at the mirror. Josh's reflection is gone. Then, his eye swoop back to Josh's Clone, which is also gone.

Josh goes back to his seat and sits down. The chair on the other side of the table disappears. Josh looks behind him. The mirror is now gone. He turns his head in front of him. The table is now gone.

Josh looks at the wall in front of him. He smiles.

The left light in the room goes out. The right light in the room goes out.

The lights both come back on at the same time. Josh is gone. The mirror reappears. Josh's reflection appears in the mirror and smiles. Clone Josh appears in a chair across from the mirror and smiles.

Suddenly, Josh's reflection cries. Clone Josh also cries.

The room begins to fill with massive amounts of water that comes from a small hole in the ceiling.

The left light goes out. The right light goes out. Water can be heard as it continues to to rapidly come out of the hole.

FADE OUT.