noise was coming from. So we sit there another 45 seconds, everything quite as a mouse, only thing you can hear was crickets chirruping... All of a sudden leaves crumbling near the shed.
Ronnie calls out " Hey... Anybody there !", the leaves stop crumbling. We looked at each other and started backing back. Next thing I know we hear this loud horrific sound behind us, and whhhhaaaamp.. I fall to the ground, I was struck in the back by the most horrifying creature I have ever seen in my life. Ronnie

JASE

If you get to scared, or don't understand something, let me know..(clears throat)
So back when my family first purchased this land, my great grandpa sold 1 acre of land to an old man name Mr Wiley. He was a nice old man my grandfather thought. Described him as a tall lumber jack type old man. He use to talk to my grandfather every morning when he came out of the woods to go make his daily store run. He use to always tell him that it was things in this world that nobody knows about that he have seen. One day morning he came to the front greeted my grandfather and told him it was something taking his crops at night and he see unusual footprints near his garden. That same night my grandpa hurd gun shots. Couple days go by, my grandfather haven't seen Mr Wiley. It was a Sunday evening, grandpa was feeding the hogs. Mr Wiley approaches him and tells him that he has seen a man-like creature taking his corn stocks out of his garden. Tried to shoot at it but when he aimed his gun down sight and shot the creature was gone. After this time seeing Mr Wiley, a couple days go by my grandpa says he was feeding the hogs around 8 at night he heard a gun shot, then moments later a loud cry. My grandfather never seen Mr Wiley after that day...That's why they call the Wiley Bottom that. They named it after Mr Wiley.

Everyone looking at Jase lost for words.

Ben and Ronnie enter the living room quietly.

JASE (CONT'D)

Mr Wiley land grew a lot of trees and the old abandon house he stayed in stills stands in back there til this day. People say, if voice crying for help.....

WILEY BOTTOM 02/08/17

Back around the 1980s, my uncle and a few cousins went into the Wiley Bottom. They get deep into the Wiley Bottom and see an old, abandoned shed. The shed was Mr. Wiley's house! The front door on the broken down shack was locked so my uncle had to stick his arm through the window to unlock it. As he was pulling his arm back out, a large and hairy hand with thick nasty finger nails grabbed his arm from inside of the shack. The whole group sees it and everyone takes off running! My uncle somehow escapes the creature's grip and caught back up to the group! They said whatever it was followed them back up to the wood line and stood there for a moment and went back off into the woods. Til this day the family has no idea what the creature was or could be!

I guess the world will never know, that's why we tell our story!

THE END!
